DEKALB COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF WATERSHED
MANAGEMENT CELEBRATES CLEAN WATER WEEK,
OCTOBER 19-25, 2008

DECATUR – The DeKalb County Department of Watershed Management will join water utilities throughout the state in recognition of Clean Water Week, which will be celebrated October 19 - 25, 2008.

The focus of this year's Clean Water Week is to promote public awareness and education on source water protection, water conservation, and water pollution control. During the Clean Water Week, the Department of Watershed Management will educate the community and schools on methods used to protect local water resources and water conservation.

Planned activities during this week long celebration will include an educational workshop at a senior center, distribution of water bottles and tap water at an elementary school, and an educational booth at a local mall.

For more information on water issues including protection, conservation and quality, please visit our website at www.dekalbwatershed.com.
