Thursday, October 27, 2011

6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Tucker Recreation Center

4898 Lavista Road
Tucker, GA 30084

(770) 270-6229

The DeKalb County Department of Watershed Management (DWM) will be hosting a Rain Barrel Workshop for DeKalb County citizens at the Tucker Recreation Center on Thursday, October 27, 2011 from 6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Collecting rain water in rain barrels for use during dry months is an excellent way to conserve water and reduce your water bill. During the workshop, citizens will be instructed on rain barrel maintenance and water conservation landscaping.

Our workshop will be open to the first twenty (20) DeKalb County residents that sign up.

This is a “hands-on” workshop where residents will make their own rain barrels with DWM assistance.

The cost of the workshop is $30.00 and will include all the materials to make your very own barrel. The deadline to register is Friday, October 21st. Interested citizens should register online.
